NEW MILITARY WORK.

Just Published and for Sale,

At the Bookstores of R. Gray, and Cottom and Stewart—

PRICE 4 DOLLARS 50 CENTS—

Rules and Regulations for the Field Exercise and Manœuvres of the French Infantry, issued August 1st, 1791; and the Manœuvres added, which have been since adopted by the emperor Napoleon. Also, the Manœuvres of the Field Artillery, with Infantry. By Col. Irenee Amelot de Lacroix, late Chief of Brigade in the French service. In three volumes, the third volume consisting of plates.

The principal part of this work has been translated from French to English, by Lieut. Col. Macdonald, in the service of his Britannick majesty. Col. de Lacroix has not only availed himself of Macdonald's translation, but has retained the principal theories, with which Col M. has enriched his work, especially his comparison of the French tactics with the Prussian, and the principles of the different nations with the English; because those valuable notes are sufficient for such comparisons, and are in point. Col. De L. has augmented those notes.

The introduction of Col. de Lacroix' works will direct the attention of the young Americans to the study of learned tactics, the result of experience, and enable them to obtain the precision desirable in the warrior, for they must be convinced that a good officer forms a good soldier, and that the experience of ages has demonstrated, that the soldier will perform his duty correctly, when he is well commanded.

At the end of the second volume of this work, Col. De Lacroix has added the manœuvres of the field artillery with the infantry, according to the French principles. It is not necessary to lavish praises on the advantage of moving this thundering arm with the same facility and celerity as the line. Europe is now convinced and confesses it. He has added Plates, which demonstrate those manœuvres so essential to the great operations of war, and which will enable officers to execute them.

Col. de Lacroix has judged it also expedient to add to this book some new adopted manœuvres, which have been put in practice to great advantage in the face of an enemy. To enhance the value of this work is the only motive could induce him to augment its size.

Twenty Dollars Reward.

ABSCONDED from my farm at the mouth of Seneca, about the 7th of last month, a man whose name is RALPH, 24 years of age, between a black and yellow color, nearly 6 feet high, very stout made, yellowish eyes looking heavy—he has but little to say. His apparel was oznaburg shirts, a negro cotton overjacket and trowsers. It is likely he has made away with them and procured other cloathing. A free negro man by name Sambo, living on Judge Washington's estate, Mount Vernon, is his father, and it is very probable he is thereabout or in Alexandria, and with little trouble may be found.

The above reward will be given to secure him in Washington City or Alexandria jail.

The Whig, of Baltimore, follows the Aurora in denouncing the National Intelligencer. How must the editor of the Intelligencer feel, when all men know him to be a mere instrument, and his political friends are obliged to confess him such. It is tormenting to hear about a consciousness of meanness were the world generally ignorant of it, but to have that degrading littleness blazoned to the nation by those who know him best, must be almost intolerable.—Independent American.

From the Baltimore Whig.

RECEIPT,

To be a moderate politician. an accommodating editor, and a wealthy man.

(Approved of at Washington.)

Imprimis. Learn to wink at intrigue & apostacy.

Item. Learn silence, during the agitation of every great measure; even though you see chains forging, cabals forming, and corruption boiling over; be silent; or else praise them all.

Item. When any measure is adopted, praise it; if good you cannot blow it too much; if bad, say "it was the best that could have been adopted under the circumstances of the times."

Item. Unless you mean to quarrel with your bread and butter, call no man tory: lay it down as a first principle, that a man may fall into errors, but never commit crimes—[It was thus that Cheetham pronounced Alexander Hamilton to be immaculate.]

N. B. The French are excepted! They are devils.

Item. Should a member of the conservative senate, or legislative assembly happen to be concerned in land jobbing, or treason to the rights and honor of America; say, that all his life had been pure and guiltless; therefore it would be too bad to denounce him; for alas! "humanum est errare."

Item. When the representative of an injured nation, stoops or kneels TO BEG redress and friendship from the aggressor; call it frankness, candor and dignified moderation.

Item. Since "they who live to please, must please to live," watch the nods and frowns and smiles of the intendant; and, do not fail to frown as he frowns, and to smile as he smiles; to curse whom he curses; and to eulogise whom he applauds.*

Item. Bear in mind, that it is far better to make money than to make noise, (by writing freely and independently) then by all means, and at all events, make money. "Be like the times."

Item. Let your language hide your purpose; for you must save appearances—then be your words equivocal, dark and mysterious. Should folks say there is no meaning in such phrase, you can give folks the lie (involved) and prove that it has two meanings.

* N. B. Again—It is a fact not generally known, that your moderate men, are very immoderate and intolerant.

For a translation of the following interesting article, we are indebted to a respectable gentleman of this city: [Com. Ad.

By the following list of arrivals and imports, in the ports of Cadiz, from Spanish America and the West India islands, during the last year, 1809, an idea may be formed of the immense riches of Spanish America, and the valuable commerce that has been carried on in the city of Cadiz, notwithstanding the calamitous circumstances under which Spain has been struggling, and against which she still so nobly continues to resist.

From the Royal Gazette, Nassau, May 15.

Came passenger in the John Bull, from Crooked Island, Charles Richards, a native of New-London, state of Connecticut, and late mate of the schooner Sloth, of Elizabeth-Town, state of Maryland, Benjamin Williams, master, who on the 15th of April, accidentally fell overboard from the said schooner, having been 5 days out from Cuba, bound to Baltimore; abreast of Long Key, between 5 and 6, P. M. being about 5 miles from land, there being at that time a brisk breeze and the vessel going at the rate of 6 miles an hour; she immediately rounded too, but not having any boat (it being previously stove) all efforts to pick me up were vain; there remained no alternative but to swim to land; a favorable wind and current with the aid of Providence enabled me to accomplish it, after having been 6 hours in the water, and nearly exhausted. As soon as I recovered sufficient strength to raise myself, I gave thanks to Almighty God, for my preservation, and then lay down until morning, when with great difficulty I walked to a plantation belonging to the hon. Jas. Moss, where I was most bospitably entertained: I remained on Long Key, and on board the John Bull, until she sailed for Nassau.—As capt. Williams must soon have lost sight of me, will probably on his arrival report me as drowned, I therefore earnestly request the editor of the Royal Gazette to publish the foregoing statement, that all concerned may be assured of my safety as soon as possible. I also take this method of tendering my thanks to captain Fulford, commander of the John Bull, for his humane treatment and polite attention to me, and to the inhabitants of Long Key and Crooked Island in general.

C. RICHARDS.

CERTAIN CURE

For the bite of a Mad Dog.

[The following receipt for the bite of a mad dog, is extracted from a work of much celebrity in London, entitled the Medical and Chirurgical Review, conducted by a society of physicians, where it is recommended to the faculty and others, as an efficacious remedy for the bite; and a certain preventative of that dreadful disease which follows it, hydrophobia. It is accompanied with numerous cases, shewing its good properties, and establishing its efficacy, and among others, the authors own experience on himself, which enabled him to test its virtues; and afterwards that of his son when an officer in the army where many who were afflicted with this excruciating disorder, were entirely cured by the means of this simple remedy, whilst all those who neglected, invariably died the most horrid death. It is attested to on oath by the son; that after an experience of thirty eight years it was never known to fail of a cure, when seasonably and properly applied. The reputation of the work, from which it is taken, recommends it to the attention of the public at large, and to the faculty in particular. It was handed to the editor by one who has dome much to aid the cause of suffering humanity.—Farmer's Cabinet.]

A receipt of John Webb, for the bite of a MAD DOG, taken from the original, by James Webb, son of the above John Webb, deceased:

"Take of the leaf or tender bud of rue half a large tea cup full, when cut quite small, the cup to hold about a quarter of a pint, beer measure; take the same quantity of large box, or common garden box, also cut this small; add nine leaves of red sage, cut small; let them be without blemish. Take half a pint of new wheat meal from the mill, or good fine flour, and about one table spoonful of yeast; mix it together as dough; let it lay about half an hour, then bake or broil it; take one third of it in new milk each morning. This quantity for a man or a woman; the same quantity for a sheep, hog or dog; but for a cow or horse, take one large tea cup full of rue cut small, and the same of box, but only nine leaves of sage: give this in milk or some other liquid. Half this quantity will do of the rue and box for a colt or calf; but nine leaves of the sage.

"My father has cured some men when mad—then he took one tea cup full of rue and one of box, and nine leaves of sage; boil it well in a pint of milk, and give it as quick as possible. Half this quantity of rue and box for a small child; but in all cases, no more or less than nine leaves of sage.

(Signed) JAMES WEBB."

February 27, 1807.

SALEM, June 12.

Captain Collyer, arrived at Marblehead from Lisbon, has favored us with a number of papers of that city, to April 13th.—If we may judge from the contents of these, the courage and determination of both Spaniards and Portuguese, in defence of their country, are unabated. The French had not entered Portugal; and in Spain, a partisan war is maintained with spirit; continual skirmishing is going on throughout the kingdom, and wherever there is a body of French, there is an opposing body of Spaniards. The 28th of March, Junot's corps extended from Benevento to Leon, and was besieging Astorga; opposed to him was the Spanish general Mahy, whose head quarters was at Villa Franca, frontiers of Gallicia. Ney's at Salamanca, continuing the French line as far as Rodrigo and Cindad Rodrigo; the Portuguese and English opposed to him. Regnier's, from the left hand of the Tagus to the Sierra Morena in Estremadura, his head quarters at Marida on the Guadiana: Romana's head quarters continued at Badajos, opposing this French corps. Blake's army in the south extended from Lorca to Orihuelo, protecting Murcia and Valencia.

In Catalonia, the French under Angereau, were besieging Ostalrith, situated between Gerona & Barcelona. The French appear to make no head against Cadiz.—An article from that place, of April 3d, says, "The French every where in Andalusia had taken such precautions as show how little confidence they have; they are fortifying themselves in Alhambra and Sacro Monte, in Granada; they imposed a contribution of five millions of reals, and took possession of the public funds, bringing to Alhambra all the provisions and valuable articles in their power, without leaving even the ornaments of the churches. On the 2d February, 13 waggons of wounded French entered Granada, and the force now there is 4 or 5000 men. The news from Catalonia is very favorable, not only on account of the destruction of the enemy, but the patriotism of the inhabitants also."

BOSTON, June 8.

Confirmation.—By Captain Pratt, from Lisbon, we were favored with papers to the 14th of April. They mention that the Spaniards had defeated near Valencia the French army under Suchet, and compelled the remains to retreat to Arragon; that a body of patriots had entered Aranjuez, and made many French prisoners; that the defenders of the country were drawing towards Cadiz, and had already opened a communication by land, the French having retired from some of their positions; and that the patriots were never in better spirits, or more enthusiastic in their opposition to their invaders.

By Captain Hinkley, of the brig Reaper, which arrived yesterday from Calcutta, we were favored with papers to January 26.

CALCUTTA, Jan. 26.

It fell to our lot to be, first to announce the capture of his majesty's sloop of war Victor, the Portuguese sloop of war Minerva, and the country ships Resolution and Admiral Drury, by the French frigate La Bellone, commanded by Captain Victor du Parry.

In the capture of the Victor, the national honor loses nothing by the event; whilst the length of the contest, under so great a disparity of force, and the gallant, though unsuccessful, attempt to carry the enemy by boarding, shew what might, and we entertain little doubt, would have been effected, had the shattered state of the Victor enabled her gallant crew to carry on the plan, so ably conceived by their leader, into execution.

It is satisfactory, under every circumstance to observe, that the casualties on board the Victor were so few and trivial; two men only having been wounded during the action, which is said to have been maintained for the space of 35 minutes.

The Minerva, it appears, fell in with the enemy, on the 22d of November, at 4, P. M. when both frigates came to close action, which was continued upwards of 3 hours, when both ships withdrew to prepare for a renewal of the combat, which recommenced a little before noon.

In the second attack the commander of the Victor is said to have displayed great judgment and resolution, and being ably supported by his officers and men, the enemy suffered severely before she struck.—Captain Ignacio is reported to be among the wounded.

The Resolution was captured on the 19th of Nov. and the Drury much about the same time, in the latitude of Madras.

The particulars of the landing of the French at Tappanooly, which have transpired since our last publication, place the national character of that people in the most unfavorable light.

Not satisfied with sacking, burning, nay literally razing the settlement to the ground, they appear, by the treatment of Mr. Hayes assistant to the resident, to have lost sight of all the duties of humanity; and the measures of cruel policy, to which they had recourse, hoping to effect a disclosure of what they termed the tresor eache, shews, in the most forcible colors, the venality of those rapacious adventurers.

Twenty Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY, April 22, 1810, from the subscriber living near Montgomery Court House, Maryland a black fellow named TOM, but I make no doubt but he will change his name; he is 21 or 22 years of age, 5 feet 8 or 9 inches high, clumsy made, he has a scar on his forehead and a scar on his right foot between his toes, his fore teeth stand wide. He took with him a black and white spotted dog. Whoever takes up said fellow and secures him so that I get him again shall receive the above reward.

Thomas Clagett.

Forty Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY from the subscriber, on the 16th of December last, negro DANIEL.—he is 38 years old, 5 feet 10 or 11 inches high, tolerably black, high cheek bones, he had an opening between his front teeth having the appearance of one lost, remarkable round shoulders and slender waist—he is by profession a Baptist, has lost much of his religion, and is fond of talking on that subject—he has appeared to be very unwell for two or three years past and has done nothing before that time he was a good hand to put up post and rail fence, and ditching, which he no doubt will engage in should he get a distance from home—he is good at all kinds of plantation work. It is believed he is still in the neighborhood of Alexandria where he has a wife, and is hired by the negroes belonging, or who have lately belonged to the estate of Benjamin Dulany, Esq. and their connections.

I will give the above reward if secured in jail so that I get him again, and reasonable charges if brought home.

TUESDAY, JUNE 19.

Mr. Snowden,

Understanding in an indirect way (for we in the country do not often see the papers) that a small company is established, or about to be established, in your town for the purpose of Spinning Cotton, and that they have partly determined to fix their Works at the Little Falls, upon a small stream of water not sufficient frequently to turn a single spindle; the consequence would be, that during the Fall Season of the year, all must stop, and all hands remain inactive upon expences until it pleases God to send them a shower of rain. It is true, that to his influence we are indebted in all situations for his supplies; but will not your fellow townsmen agree with me, that this little Company had better augment their capital, so as to comprehend such a situation as might be had at the Falls of Occoquan. There, I am told, it does not happen one year in ten, but there is a sufficiency of water for all the works already established there, and all the Cotton Works likely to be established there for a century to come.

Indeed, the seat formerly occupied by Elisha Janney as a merchant mill, I am told, is in the market and might be bought, and probably low, compared to its value; to which seat, it is said, belongs one sixth part of the water in the river. It is said too, that there is brick and stone upon the spot sufficient to build a Cotton Mill and Weaving House to any moderate extent, and that from the ease of access to the materials, in all probability the Mill House might be enclosed this Fall. Perhaps it may be said, that the Falls of Occoquan is not so accessable and convenient to your town as the Falls of Potomac; but I think it is more so, although situated four miles further from it; the great Southern Stage Road passes by it, and the tide flows to the spot.

If you think this little hint will have a tendency to the public good, you will please give it insertion in your paper, and believe me

Yours,

WATCHMAN.

Important Document.—At a time when the official paper of the government, at Washington, is pretending surprize and astonishment at the Duc de Cadore's insolent letter to General Armstrong, and the subsequent confiscation of American property in a mass; it may be considered highly important to publish the following extract of a letter from General Armstrong to Mr Madison, (then Secretary of State) in which the present state of things is clearly predicted. The decided tone of General Armstrong could not be misunderstood; but his warning was disregarded.

Extract of a letter from Mr. Armstrong to Mr. Madison, Feb. 22, 1808.

"Mr. Patterson offers so good a conveyance that I cannot but employ it. Nothing has occurred here since the date of public despatches (the 17th) to give to our business an aspect more favorable than it then had; but on the other hand I have come to the knowledge of two facts which I think sufficiently shew the decided character of the Emperor's policy with regard to us. These are, first, that in a Council of Administration held a few days past when it was proposed to modify the operation of the decrees of Nov. 1806 and Dec. 1807, (though the proposition was supported by the whole weight of the Council) he became highly indignant, and declared that the decrees should SUFFER NO CHANGE——and that the Americans should be compelled to take the positive character of either allies or enemies——second, that on the 27th of January last, twelve days after Mr. Champagny's written assurances, that those decrees should work no change in the property sequestered until our discussions with England were brought to a close, and seven days before, he reported to me verbally these very assurances, the Emperor had by a special decision confiscated two of our ships and their cargoes; the Julius Henry, and Juniata, for want merely of a document not required by any law or usage of the commerce in which they had been engaged.—This act was taken, as I am informed, on a general report of sequestered cases, amounting to one hundred and sixty, and which, at present prices, will yield upwards of one hundred millions of francs, a sum whose magnitude alone renders hopeless all attempts at saving it. Danes, Portuguese and Americans will be the principal sufferers. If I am right in supposing that the Emperor has definitely taken his ground, I cannot be wrong in concluding THAT YOU WILL IMMEDIATELY TAKE YOURS."

Spain & Portugal.—The numerous predictions of the immediate subjugation of these interesting sections of Europe have not, thank heaven, yet become history.—By captain Pratt we have received Lisbon papers to the 24th April, which state, That the French had not then executed their threats to enter Portugal: That Cadiz had not fallen: That the Patriots had even obtained some advantages—evidence of their unsubdued condition—in several provinces: That the French tygers had again been compelled to fly from the rich province of Valencia: That a party of Patriots had taken advantage of the absence of the marauders from Castile, and had advanced to Aranjuez, within a short distance of Madrid, and made some prisoners: That they were advancing their cohorts [not armies] upon the besiegers of Cadiz, with which city they had opened a communication:—That, in short, in all quarters a depredatory warfare was carried on by small bodies against the French foraging parties, and posts of communication; and that the Patriots were in good spirits, and had not lost their confidence in eventual success.—God grant the full fruition of their expectations. We know implicit reliance cannot be placed even in the best corroborated accounts of Spanish and Portuguese affairs in their papers: But the recent tardiness of the French in many provinces; the slow progress of those hovering around Portugal; the sombre style of some of the latest French official letters from Andalusia; the cessation of the sprightly bulletins; the acknowledged impoverished state of the provinces which have been overrun by the French; and the continual arrival of fresh reinforcements of the British army in Portugal and Cadiz—induce a hope of the existence of a stronger germ of Spanish opposition to the French myrmidons, or greater resources, and more obstacles to the entire subjugation of the peninsula, than most of the accounts from thence have indicated. It is possible the Patriots tho' they write well, may fight badly. But if any evidence of that spirit can be collected from the addresses and essays in their gazettes, their inveteracy against, and their determination never quietly to wear the yoke of French slavery, is inexterminable. It appears in those writings that the blood of myriads of Spanish and Portuguese Patriots, shed in defence of their children, altars and firesides, against their lawless invaders, is continually ascending to Heaven in fervent prayers for the frustration of the most cruel invasion and bloody despotism which ever afflicted a people, or bro't down the vengeance of a just God on the head of the tyrant and usurper; and that their prayers are sometimes heard.—Boston Gaz.

CONSULAR OFFICE OF SPAIN.

Philadelphia, June 14, 1810.

Whereas official information is received that the extensive districts of Maracaybo and Coro, which compose a large portion of the province of Venezuela, have unanimously disagreed to the anti-national measures lately adopted by their brethren of the district of Carraccas, and are determined to preserve their integrity and fidelity to the government of the mother country, administered in the name of their beloved king Ferdinand the VIIth, and have accordingly decreed that no vessel will be admitted from the United States of America into their ports, without the necessary consular documents from the consuls of his catholic majesty resident therein, setting forth the name of the vessel, captain, officers and crew, as well as passengers. It is hereby made known to all whom it may concern, that such documents will be granted at this office on application, without which, no vessel will be admitted into the ports of these districts; and as it is the particular wish of his Catholic majesty's government to cultivate the relations of friendship and trade between the United States and his dominions of Spain and America, it is to be hoped no vessel will proceed to the ports of those districts without carrying the documents required by the government.

The following arrangements of titles and of dislocations and creations of kings are reported in letters from Germany to have been determined on between the emperors of France and Austria, we give it as it reached us, without further comment than that some of the appointments appear to us improbable.

Napolvon I. emperor of France, &c. and king of the Romans.

Francis II. emperor of Austria & Franconia, and co protector of the confederation of the Rhine.

The archduke Charles, king of Spain and the Indies.

Joseph Napoleon to be king of Italy.

Ferdinand the IV. to be restored to the throne of the Two Scicilies.

Joachim to be king of Poland.

Eugene to be king of Macédonia.

Louis Napoleon to be king of Bavaria.

The hereditary prince of Bavaria to be king of Holland and Berg.

Jerome Napoleon to be king of Wirtemburg.

The king of Wirtemburg to be king of Westphalia.

The grand duke of Baden to be king of Switzerland.

The king of Prussia to cede Silesia to Austria.—N. Y. Gaz.

GOOD MORNING.

[In imitation of the French "BON JOUR."]

The blushing precursor of Phœbus expands
The chrystalline portals of light;
And scatters the dew-dripping tints from her hands
To crimson the mantle of Night.
Sleep shakes his soft pinions and soars to the sky,
And with rapture I greet my dear Jane,
Whose health flushing cheek, and whose soul beaming eye,
Aurora but mimics in vain.
Good morning.

Thy presence to me is the dawning of light,
And pleasure illumines my breast;
But ah! in thy absence morn changes to night—
Hope sinks like the star of the west.
Then let us, my fair one, the moments improve
Which morning allows us for bliss;
Let the new risen day be devoted to love,
And in earnest accept of a kiss.
Good Morning.

When evening returns, and in slumber I lie,
Then Fanny the scene shall retrace;
Shall light up anew the soft glance of thine eye,
And restore me thy blissful embrace.
And when through thy lattice Aurora's tints play,
O fly to the arms of thy swain,
With him taste the sweets of the infamile day,
And hear him repeat on the plain,
Good Morning.

NOTICE.

THE Creditors of the house of Clingman and M'Gaw, formerly of Alexandria, merchants, are requested to transmit their respective claims duly authenticated to Gen. W. Strong, esq. counsellor at law, No. 114, Burling Slip, New York. The object of this request is to ascertain the entire amount of all claims on the said house, in the city of Alexandria and its vicinity, as preparatory to making some proposition for their final adjustment. As it will be impracticable to submit to the creditors any specific proposition, until the whole amount of the debts is known, it is of consequence that they should all attend to this notice; and it is hoped they will not suffer the period for transmitting their accounts to be protracted beyond the 20th day of June next.

GENUINE MEDICINES.

THE LATE RICHARD LEE, JR OF N. YORK.

As prepared from the original receipt in possession of the subscriber, his widow, by whom they are prepared and without whose signature none are genuine.

Obstinate Coughs, Colds, Asthmas, &c.

Are immediately relieved and speedily cured by the use of

HAMILTON'S ELIXER FOR COUGHS

DEAR bought experience has taught thousands that oily and heated medicines, joined with strong opiates or sleepy drugs, repeated doses of which flatter and deceive the patient for the present, by procuring momentary ease; experience, I say, has taught thousands, that the common opiates and balsamics, as they are called, finally aggravate every disorder of the breast and lungs, in their most distressing symptoms: that they load the stomach and impair the digestion inflame the whole system, increase the difficulty of breathing and excite fever. But the qualities of this valuable discovery are evinced by perfectly opposite effects. A single trial will prove, that it restores the determination of the fluids to the surface of the body, and brings on the common healthful perspiration—that it dislodges and evacuates the tough viscid phlegm or mucus, strengthens the weakened vessels of the lungs, sheathes the acrimonious humor which irritates them, and finally discharges it. Thus striking at the root of the disorder, the symptoms are of course effectually and permanently conquered, the reverse of common medicines, which weaken the constitution and give strength to the disorder for the sake of moderating for the present some of its painful effects.

To parents who have children afflicted with the whooping cough, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorder to which children are liable. The elixir is so perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Selected Recommendations.

Being desirous to make public for the good of others, the excellent quality of Hamilton's elixir, prepared by the late Mr. Lee, I have sent you the following account of the benefit I have received from it; which I hope will induce others to give it a trial. In consequence of a bruise on the breast received from a fall, my health grew bad, my breathing became very difficult, and frequently I have had suddenly to rise up in my bed with all the horrors of immediate suffocation.—Add so these a constant pain in my breast, and a cough, a great loss of strength & flesh, and you may conceive that my symptoms evidently indicated an approaching consumption. The advice of a most eminent physician was resorted to, and afterwards a second was called in, but without giving me any relief. Another physician who knew me and the circumstances of my case, advised me to give Hamilton's Elixir a trial, saying he had used it in his practice and always found it to do much good. A bottle was procured from Mr. Birch's, and I found relief before I had taken half of it. I continued to use it & was soon strong to attend to business. On taking cold, some of my former symptoms return, but are always removed by a dose or two of the Elixir.

George Benner, jun.
no. 11, Bud street, Philadelphia.
Mrs. H. Lee, New York.

Mr. Abijah Henly, Bridge street, Baltimore, was cured by one bottle of Hamilton's Elixir, of a very complicated disorder, occasioned by a very severe cold caught several months ago. He breathed with the greatest difficulty, and was often thrown into weakening sweats when he attempted to walk any distance, and his voice would frequently fail in such a degree that he could only attempt to whisper. He has been upwards of six weeks without a return of his complaints; and desires to give his public testimony in favor of this invaluable medicine.

Itch Cured,

By once using Lee's Sovereign Ointment. The proprietor informs those persons and families who are suffering under this disease, against the infection of which no person is safe, that if this ointment is used at night on going to bed it never fails to perform a cure by the following morning, as thousands who have used it during the last ten years can testify. The peculiar excellencies of this infallible remedy for the itch, above every other, are the certainty of the cure by a single application; the ingredients being so innocent as to be applied with perfect safety to the tenderest infant; and its being not only free from any offensive smell, but equally agreeable with the pleasantest pomatum.

Which the inventor confidently recommends as and invaluable medicine for the speedy relief, and permanent cure of various complaints which result from dissipated pleasures, juvenile indiscretions, residence, in climates unfavorable to the constitution, the immoderate use of tea, frequent intoxication, or any destructive intemperance, the unskillful or frequent use of mercury, the diseases peculiar to females at a certain period of life, bad layings in, &c.

HAMILTON'S
CELEBRATED WORM DESTROYING LOZENGES.

Among the symptoms attending Worms are, disagreeable breath, especially in the morning—foul and corrupt gums—itching in the nose, and about the seat—convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes a privation of speech—irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious—purging with slimy and fœtid stools—vomiting—large and hard belly—pains and sickness at the stomach—pains in the head and thighs, with lowness of spirits—slow fever, with small and irregular pulse—a dry cough—excessive thirst—sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms, should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

This scheme, it is believed, affords an equal prospect of gain to adventurers with any other which has been offered to the public. Those who are interested in the commerce and agriculture of the country adjacent to the Potomac and Shenandoah rivers, have additional inducements to give their support, as the money to be raised by the lottery is for their immediate benefit and convenience. It is also hoped that the patriotic and public spirited will be disposed to countenance and encourage a measure which has for its object the facilitating a ready and convenient communication between the western country and the Atlantic, tending to connect the interests of the eastern and western states, and to perpetuate their union.
